

The July Series ended with a SE gradient breeze that was being tugged on by the seabreeze and abundant sunshine over the mountains of Acadia. Things were a bit squirrely for the RC out in the Great Harbor so we made our way out to the eastern way with a start off Bowden Ledge and Seal Hahbah. A course was set with a midcourse gate and a windward mark up near Harding Ledge on the east side of Islesford. Current was absolutely cranking in and it was very interesting to have a new venue. Satin Doll crushed the start but let Dram escape towards Islesford and the right side. There were plenty of pressure differences as well as some angle changes on the right side. The run was interesting as it was nice and square with boats spending equal time on both gybes but unable to gain huge leverage with the mid-course gate. As it lightened up and shifted hard right on the last beat to windward the RC decided to pull the plug at the upwind gate.

Bardy and Tucker were zooming and setting marks for you and Sue and Fran were on Shearwater this afternoon.

Congrats to the Dram team with Herb "carbon spars forever" Motley on board from the Marblehead fleet. We're all anxious to hear from the players on what they did and why. And it's ok to say that you guessed and lucked out, too.

The July Series is over. Tyler Steel and the 'Gambler' crew have achieved a phenomenal accomplishment by winning 7 races of the 9 which they counted.

Whoaaaa! There is a boat to beat in August now.
